NUMBER 78.

Judge Dundon Announces His Candidacy.

To The Democrats of Bourbon County: I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Judge of Bourbon County. Four years ago you very kindly and greatly honored me with this position, which I have filled to the best of my ability, and I respectfully request of you an endorsement at the coming primary. Every Democratic County Judge in the history of this county has been honored with at least a second term, except one who died during his first term.

While I can not claim that I have measured up to the high standard set by my illustrious predecessors yet I believe that the experience I have had will enable me to render better service in the future than in the past; and if it may suit your good pleasure to further honor me, I promise to render the best service of which I am capable.

I feel deeply grateful for the many favors shown me, and hope by fidelity to the trust you have imposed upon me, and by my zeal for the success of the Democratic Party, and the triumph of its principles, to, in some measure, merit the same.

Very Truly Yours,

DENIS DUNDON.

Bourbon County Farmers Institute.

The annual session of the Bourbon County Farmers' Institute will be held at Millersburg, Ky., on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 25 and 26. The daily session will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., with an hour intermission for dinner. Good speakers will be present to discuss questions of vital importance to farmers and stock raisers, embracing most every department of farm, orchard and garden culture and stock raising. These are too valuable to be missed by any one interested in these subjects. All the people should attend these meetings in honor of the high calling of the men who make the bread of the world by the sweat of their faces, and help them to increase the products of their fields in volume and value.

Only 100 Scholars to a District.

Prof. J. G. Crabbe, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has ruled that only 100 children of school age will be recognized in any school district, and where more than 100 are listed the additional per capita will be used to extend the school term beyond the specified time. This will give several school districts a longer term than usual. In fifty counties returns have been made by the county superintendents showing district in which there are more than 100 children of school age.

Clash Between Sheriff and Soldiers.

A serious clash between Sheriff Tom Rhea, of Logan county, and State soldiers stationed at Russellville took place Tuesday when Sheriff Rhea reached Russellville with the negro, Rufus Browder. The Sheriff resented the efforts of the militiamen to surround the prisoner, and when two soldiers climbed on the seat of the carriage, threw them to the ground and the wheels of the vehicle passed over one of them. After the negro had been placed in jail a conference was held by the Sheriff with Capt. Dan Carrell and R. J. McBride, Jr., at which peace between the civil and military authorities was established.

Louisville Buyers Behind Action

Judge Polsgrove at Frankfort dismissed warrants against Ben Marshall, Harrison Cohorn, Babe Puliam and Ike Iszer, charging them with buying pooled tobacco in Franklin county. The warrant against John Marshall would have been dismissed but Marshall, desiring to test the Crecelius Act, filed a demurrer. He is said to be backed by the Louisville Warehouse Companies in his efforts to defeat the tobacco growers in preventing the sale of pooled tobacco.

Swagger Sherley Again Honored.

Swagger Sherley, Monday for the fourth consecutive time, was nominated by the Democrats of the Fifth District of Kentucky as candidate for the lower house of Congress. The nominating speech was made by Herman L. Newcomb, the man who had opposed him in the race. The convention was one of enthusiastic and aggressive harmony and served further to weld the union of the local Democrats.

Because they or their attorneys made errors in filling out the vouchers and applications nearly 4,000 pensioners in Kentucky will have to wait for their pensions until the mistakes can be rectified. The delays were caused by the substitution of new blank forms by the Government.

An Expensive Crime.

Harry Thaw's bankruptcy petition gives some idea of the size of doctor's and lawyers' bills when a client has money. Almost all the liabilities of $453,140 were for the cost of his two trials and insanity proceedings. His mother paid in cash $191,500. Besides what they have already received, one firm of lawyers wants $60,000, and another has sent in an $80,000 bill. The alienists demand from $600 to $12,000 each. Thaw's income from his father's estate is $33,000 a year. It would take fifteen years' income to pay these bills. Murder may be one of the safest of crimes, but under some circumstances it is also one of the most expensive.

W. C. Bell, Insurance Commissioner, is going after agents for insurance companies who have not paid their license fees and has found a large number of agents who owed the State $5 each. Bryan's Chance to Win.

In former campaigns for the Presidency Bryan had the support of the Socialists and Populists, in this campaign both of these parties are fighting him. We think, says Marion Reedy, in the St. Louis Mirror, that there will be a million votes polled for Eugene V. Debs for President. Tom Watson will get some votes. Hearst's ticket will get some. The Prohibitionists are somewhat stronger than ever, and in Democratic territory. How is Bryan to overcome this defection, if at all? We incline to think that Roosevelt has done it for him; that Roosevelt has popularized Bryanism to such an extent that Rooseveltians will vote for Bryan, now that they have no opportunity to vote for Roosevelt himself. We don't think Roosevelt can deliver his followers to Taft. It seems to us that Taft is a reactionary; that as an indurated Federal Judge he cannot do anything else fundamentally than an upholder of privilege in the forms in which it has entrenched itself in this country. Mr. Taft can't be a Rooseveltian and a John Marshall man too, with a deep and idolatrous devotion to the so-called "vested rights" that are in fact continuing vested wrongs. Mr. Bryan will get all the Democratic votes he ever got and most of the Palmer and Buckner votes that revolted in 1896. He will get thousands and thousands of Roosevelt Republicans. His chance to win has been made by Roosevelt. Whatever of good Roosevelt and Bryan have in common in their politics, Taft is opposed to. He represents all the social and economic antipathy to Bryan and Roosevelt. Only those are strong for Taft who believe he is the antithesis of Bryan and Roosevelt. Wealth may not feel that Mr. Taft is quite so extensively antipathetic to Bryanism and Roosevelt as Wall street would have him, but he is the best that wealth could get, and the capitalist element will have to take him. Will business vote for Taft because Roosevelt's Bryanism brought on hard times. We don't think so. This country is pretty well convinced that the panic was deliberately and artificially brought about by men who hate at once Roosevelt's Bryanism and Bryan's Rooseveltism. The man on a reduced salary, the small business man, the man out of a job, knows that the big interests that precipitated the stringency are for Taft. Are these men going to vote for the candidate of the men, who to protect their graft, were willing to plunge the country into misery? We think not. In spite of Debs', and Watson's, and Hearst's, and the Prohibitionist's defection from Bryan, we think the Democratic candidate this year has a better chance to win than he ever had before. He isn't the bugaboo that he was to the men with a $2,500 home and a $5,000 insurance policy, and they are men who defeated him in 1896 and 1900, at the instance and instigation of great financiers, most of whom have been exposed and disgraced as gigantic thieves, and some of whom have gone or are en route to jail, or dead in dishonored graves.

Stevenson for Governor.

The nomination of former Vice President Adlai Stevenson for Governor of Illinois is good news for Democrats generally, and it will be received with pleasure in Kentucky where the former Vice President has many relatives and personal friends. Mr. Stevenson has served his party and country faithfully in the past. He the United States with dignity and efficiency, and nominating him for the Governorship the Illinois Democracy displays its desire to put forward its best men.

It is characteristic of this year's campaign that in the States where Governors and other State officers are to be elected the Democrats are selecting superior men. Harmon in Ohio, Marshall in Indiana and Stevenson in Illinois would make a trio of Governors worthy in every respect of the confidence of their respective States, and their candidacy is a credit to the Democracy.

In the candidacy of such men for important executive offices there is proof that the Democratic party deserves to win, that it is worthy to be the dominant political organization that its triumph this year is a guaranty of good government in State as well as in national affairs. The prospect of the election of such men ought to strengthen the party in the national contest. It is evidence to the reasonable mind that the Democracy is not a one man party, that it is not a factional party, but it is a political organization representing the people with leaders in local as well as in national affairs whom the people can afford to trust.

Saints and Sinners.

Is there going to be a parallel case in this campaign to the Harriman incident in 1904, in which the virtuous Roosevelt, tried to put Judge Parker in the Ananias class, while at the same time urging Harriman, that malefactor of great wealth, to boost the campaign fund with contributions from the railroad and the trusts? It certainly looks that way for while the politics and no doubt honest Taft is giving that no contributions will be accepted from Trusts. His wicked accomplice Sheldon, who he made treasurer of the Republican National Committee, is collecting funds from the trusts and corporations with the most persistent assiduity. The plan of the Republican managers of not letting the public into their confidence until "after election" will thus screen them from censure until the boodle campaign is over. If successful at the election the election the Republicans will claim that the vast sum used was on the whole not bad, and anyway the flagrant Sheldon was alone to blame, and if defeated, why "after us the deluge."

SAVAGERY OF A CENTURY AGO.

Poor Woman's Execution Then a Matter of Little Moment.

The hanging of a woman, which in these days calls forth public protests, was apparently a matter of indifference to our grandfathers and grandmothers, says the London Chronicle. It was in the nineteenth century that a woman found guilty of some trifling offense was sentenced to death. By chance the warrant for her execution was not sent to the high sheriff, and she remained in prison for about three years, acting as a jail washerwoman, and occasionally, as a favor in acknowledgment of her good behavior, going out, as was then the custom, as a washerwoman to private houses. But a clerk looking through the home office records found the warrant that had never been dispatched, and it was thereupon promptly forwarded to the sheriff for due process. The woman was found by the turnkey at the wash-tub in a house in the town—Aylesbury. "Well, missus," said he, "you are to be hanged. The warrant has come at last, and we must carry the sentence out to-morrow morning at the latest." "Werry well, then," the wretched woman submissively replied, "I suppose I must go," and having washed the soap suds off her arms departed with the official. She was duly hanged next morning. From all which it would seem that barely a century separates us from a condition of primitive barbarism.

UP FOR A COOLER.

It Was a Hot July Day, but He Kept His Coat Buttoned.

It was one of the hottest days that disgraced the month of July. The stout man with a face like a full moon done in red, making ambidextrous use of a pair of fans, his vest open, his collar curled like a green leaf in the sun, his handkerchief wringing wet and his forehead beaded with perspiration, stopped in mute surprise near the corner of State and Griswold streets. He stood there for a full minute looking at a man with a closely buttoned blouse, turned up collar and slouched hat leaning against a hot brick wall and basking in the sun.

"What's the matter, my man?" the stout gentleman at length made out to inquire.

"Feel kinder chilly."

"Chilly? Great Scott, man! Do you know it's 92 in the shade, and there you are on a steaming flag pavement leaning against a steaming brick wall and looking as though you were on a polar expedition. I'll call an ambulance."

"No, you won't," laughed the other. "I'll be used to it in a little bit. Don't like to cool off too suddenly, don't you see?"

"No, I don't see," replied the stout one, who began to think he was dealing with a lunatic. "When a man tells me he's chilly, and that he's been cooling off too rapidly in this atmosphere, I'm through with him. Good day."

"Hold on, boss. Don't go off mad. I'm fireman for the elevators down here, and when the thermometer runs up to 115 I generally slip up here for a change of climate. Once in awhile it gives me the shakes, and I have to dance around to get warm. When I used to stoke on an ocean liner, 130 was cool, but"—The stout man was gone.—Detroit Free Press.

"Yep, pap."

"Is he got his arm round yer waist?"

"Yep, pap."

"You-all tell him to take't away."

"Aw, ye tell him yerself, pap," replied the girl in a dull, lifeless voice.

"He air a plumb stranger to me."

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—DR. G. G. GREEN.

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Roschke's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

Future of Burley Tobacco Society

The Burley Tobacco Society adjourned Wednesday afternoon to meet at Winchester again in October. Much of the discussion was devoted to the future of the association. It was decided to make no attempt to pool the crop of 1908, which will amount to 8,000 or 10,000 hogsheads. It is also probable that no effort will be made to restrict the acreage in 1909, but strenuous efforts will be made to secure control of the crop so that if there is an overproduction the surplus may be held off the market and the crop of 1910 modified to suit the exigencies of the case.

In regard to the 1907 crop the board of control of each county in order to send all samples to Winchester by September 1 and prices will not be made on the crop until these samples are graded and classified. In regard to the crop of 1909 the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, This society has succeeded in every sense, so that almost all the members are well pleased with the present way of managing and business, and

Whereas, We have sold 33,000 hogsheads of the 52,000 hogsheads of the crop of 1906, and

Whereas, we have application for at least one-half the crop of 1907, that is, applications for a chance at it, and

Whereas, The annual election takes place early in October, we do not feel that we have a right to say what should or should not be done with the crop of 1909; at the same time we feel it our duty, in order not to have too much confusion in the Burley district, to recommend to each member or person desiring to become a member, that it would be better for each member, in the event he desires to rent his land for the purpose of growing tobacco in 1909, to provide in his contract that said tobacco shall be subject to control, restrictions on other regulations that the management of the Burley Society, after the October election in 1908, shall propose for the best interests of its members.

Now is the Time to Buy.

We are about done selling porch furniture, hammocks and refrigerators. The rest in our stock will go at a sacrifice.

Who Will Be the Wedding Couple?

Who is to be the bride and groom? This is the question that is uppermost in the minds of the people in and around Paris at the present time, but no one seems to know as the fact is being kept a profound secret by Manager Jackson, and those interested and no statement other than that the wedding announced to take place on the evening of Saturday, August 22, will come off on scheduled time and that is all the information that can be obtained on the question.

The list of donations is growing rapidly and by the date of the wedding the couple will no doubt have enough articles received from the merchants of Paris to set them up comfortably in housekeeping. Manager Jackson has not as yet completed his canvas and is expecting many returns from his efforts this week. The following donations are in addition to those already published: J. T. Hinton, handsome rocker; J. H. Doty, photographer, one dozen photographs; Twin Bros., dry goods department, pair of silk gloves; L. Saloshin, bottle of his best wine; Cassidy Bros., pressing clothing for one month; Dr. F. M. Faries, medical services for six months; The Bourbon News extends one yearly subscription.

The curiosity of the Paris people has been aroused to such an extent that several have paid a visit to County Clerk Pearce Paton in an effort to learn the names of the parties to be married. Mr. Paton had, however, pledged himself to secrecy, and would not divulge the names, so the curious lot was turned away to seek elsewhere for information. Interest in the matter continues to grow and a record-breaking crowd is expected at the Grand on the evening of Saturday, August 22.

Estimate of Wheat Crop.

The wheat estimate of Clement, Curtis & Co., Chicago, is out:

"The winter wheat in Russia is 60 per cent less than last year; Italy, also highly favored a year ago, is harvesting less; Austria-Hungary is repeating the deplorable results of the previous season; the Balkan States will not show any appreciable increase Germany alone has done better. Assuming a winter wheat crop at last year's level, Europe promises at least 1,550,000,000 bushels, or 350,000,000 bushels under maximum and 290,000,000 bushels under the five-year average of 1902-6.

"The visible stock in Europe on July 1, including grain in passage, was 59,000,000, against 71,000,000 a year ago, and 74,000,000 two years ago. Again American surplus must fill the gap. India, with a harvest just completed, 90,000,000 less than the previous year, can not contribute to the non-surplus countries.

"It is perhaps early to consider surplus in this country and Canada. Our winter wheat is practically made at 40,000,000 bushels. If we assume a normal Northwestern outturn of 250,000,000 there is 670,000,000. Stocks and farm reserves suggest a total available of 730,000,000 bushels; deduct 564,000,000 for seedling and domestic consumption, three is left in sight for export and year end supplies 166,000,000, comparing with 198,000,000 on similar consumption least year based on final crop.

"We have, therefore, a hypothetical 32,000,000 bushels less for export and supplies than last year. Assuming a Northwest Canadian crop of 120,000,000, as against 69,000,000 last year, there is a hypothetical increase of 51,000,000 surplus in that country, or a total of increase of only 19,000,000 bushels of American wheat to supply a greater European demand, with probability that the spring wheat regions may not fulfill the estimates above given."

He will then begin to bring the rich ore from the mine and have it separated right here instead of shipping it away for that purpose. The lead will then be ready for the market. Mr. Hollingsworth is an expert in the mining business and is very enthusiastic over the prospects of this mine. In fact he says there is no doubt about the quality and quantity of the lead. It will be remembered that the late Dr. Wash Pittman was the first man to take up this mine, and his convictions at the time are now being borne out by this thorough development of the mine.

"Politics is Hell."
This old saying "politics is hell," was pictured in letters of fire out at Centerville Wednesday night. The Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill was billed for a speech there in the school house. He was on hand and so was Mr. James H. Thompson, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee. Mr. Cantrill had made his speech, during the course of which he told of his devotion to the farmers and tobacco men, etc. Mr. Thompson then began to ask Mr. Cantrill a number of rather impertinent and embarrassing questions in regard to his lobbying at Frankfort, during the last Legislature. He charged Mr. Cantrill with being in with the Republican lobby at Frankfort. That he threw a wad of money at the farmers and equity men by joining the Republicans in helping to defeat the McChord tobacco bill, getting in return the assistance of the Republicans in helping him to defeat the County Unit Bill. That he worked hand in hand with the Republican lobbyists that defeated Beckham for the Senate. That he was the lobbyist of the Brewers' Association and sacrificed both the McChord Bill and Beckham to defeat the County Unit Bill. Mr. Cantrill denied the charges, and said it was a debatable matter, and Mr. Thompson responded by saying he would meet him on the stump in every precinct in the district if it was necessary. It finally got more than warm and began to get personal and a friend of both gentlemen asked them to desist, which they did. Therefore, we say "politics is hell."

Big Crowd Goes to Lexington.
The Paris Commercial Club, headed by the Elks Band left yesterday morning to attend the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington. It took seven interurban cars to carry the crowds that left Paris alone and there is no doubt but that there were over 1,000 people from Bourbon county who attended the Lexington Fair, yesterday. Maybe this isn't heaping coals of fire upon the heads of the members of the Lexington Commercial Club, our little suburban annex. The people of Paris "Greater Paris," and Bourbon county, however, have always been religiously inclined and believe in returning good for evil at all stages of the game. Yes, there were only two people from Lexington and Fayette in attendance at the outing of the Paris Commercial Club.

MILTON TERCENTENARY.

Celebrations in Honor of the Great English Poet.

The tercentenary of the birth of John Milton, which is being celebrated this summer in England, serves to call attention to the difference in the financial rewards of a literary career in the time of this great poet and in our own era. Milton received £5 from his publisher for "Paradise Lost" and a promise of £5 more when the sales should have reached 1,300. Yet there is perhaps no greater name in English literature than his. Milton was born in London on Dec. 9, 1608, but some of the principal observances in connection with the tercentenary are taking place this month, Cambridge university being the scene of several of the most important. Cambridge is intimately associated with the name of Milton, for it was at Christ college, Cambridge, that he studied the higher branches of learning, and in a venerable, musty volume the entry of his name can still be found. In his honor the fellows and masters of the college planned this month the performance of the masque "Comus" in the Fellows' garden, which contains the famous Milton mulberry tree to which so many pilgrimages have been made by admirers of the poet. One day in the programme of the Cambridge celebration has been devoted to the memory of his second wife, Catherine Woodcock, to whom the poet was passionately devoted and to whom he dedicated ed one of his most beautiful sonnets. She is the subject of a memorial window erected by the late George W. Childs of Philadelphia in St. Margaret's, Westminster. Milton at the time of his graduation from Cambridge was a very handsome young man. It was not until he was about thirty-two years old that his eyesight began to fail. After blindness finally overcame him his two daughters became his eyes.

VISCOUNT KATSURA.

Veteran Warrior and Statesman at Front Once More in Japan.

General Viscount Taro Katsura, who has come to the front in Japanese politics again in consequence of the recent reorganization of the cabinet, has several times been prime minister of Japan and is one of the greatest soldiers of the empire. He has the reputation of being a strong friend of America. The viscount was born in 1849, is of samurai family and belongs to the Choshin clan, hailing from the province of Nagato—the birthplace of about nine out of ten of the country's great men. He began his fighting career in 1867 in the civil war which resulted in the overthrow of the old order of things and the adoption of western civilization. He was only a subaltern then, but Japan rang with stories of his remarkable skill and courage in leading men. After the civil war was over and Japan had begun to adopt western ways his government sent him to Germany to study military matters, and thus it came about that he had a great deal to do with putting the mikado's army on a modern basis. He rose rapidly until he reached the rank of lieutenant general, and in the war with China commanded the third division of the Japanese army, marching through Korea and Manchuria. His name became a terror to the Chinese, who called his troops "the ever victorious army."

Lester M. Nelson, of Naples, Maine, says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery many years, for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung complaints, and would not more be with it a bottle than I would without it." "I saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. WHEELER'S MIGHTY CLEARANCE SALE

ENTERED UPON ITS SECOND GREAT WEEK MONDAY

WITHOUT DOUBT THIS IS THE GREATEST HOUSE FURNISHING SALE THAT PARIS HAS EVER KNOWN. POSITIVELY THE GRANDEST VALUES IN THE HISTORY OF THE FURNITURE TRADE.

The statement thus boldly made is justified by existing conditions. No furniture dealer in America would dare quote such astoundingly low prices if not forced to by unavoidable circumstances. To make room for these goods present stocks must be unmercifully sacrificed. We are face to face with a condition that demands heroic action. Only those fortunate enough to attend this mighty, unparalleled furniture clearance can comprehend the extent of the price sacrifices. Our mammoth stock of dependable house furnishings are now offered to the wise, provident buyers of Central Kentucky at the lowest prices ever named by any legitimate dealer in America.

Circulation of the Blood
The mileage of the blood circulation reveals some astounding facts in our personal history. Thus it has been calculated that, assuming the heart to beat 69 times a minute at ordinary heart pressure, the blood goes at the rate of 207 yards in the minute, or seven miles per hour, 168 miles per day and 6,320 miles per year. If a man of 84 years of age could have one single blood corpuscle floating in his blood all his life it would have traveled in that same time 5,130,000 miles.
